Under Kansas law, there is no liability for an injury to or the death of a participant in domestic animal activities resulting from the inherent risks of domestic animal activities, pursuant to sections I through 4, Chapter 290, 1994 Session Laws of Kansas. You are assuming the risk of participating in this domestic animal activity. Inherent risks of domestic animal activities include, but shall not be limited to:

1. The propensity of a domestic animal to behave in ways i.e., running, bucking, biting, kicking, shying, stumbling rearing, falling or stepping on, that may result in an injury, harm or death to persons on or around them.
2. The unpredictability of a domestic animal's reaction to such things, as sounds, sudden movement and unfamiliar objects, persons or other animals.
3. Certain hazards such as surface and subsurface conditions.
4. Collisions with other domestic animals or objects: and
5. The potential of a participant to act in a negligent manner that may contribute to injury to the participant or others, such as failing to maintain control over the domestic animal or not acting within such participant's ability.
